

Just in case you missed it, old man winter passed by last week. He didn't even spend a single night on Ibiza. Some people say that global warming is on the way. We prefer to think that the last Ice Age is finally passing.

In any case, it is pure pleasure to step out onto the Promenade and soak up those warm days. When we come back inside our bodies are filled with light. You have probably noticed that all of the recent broadcasts of www.freecoachtv.com have taken place outdoors. We are just so much more creative in the fresh air. Each broadcast adds an additional skill to help you coach better and earn more. So join us each week on freecoachtv.

Learning Success on Hawaii

If you are on or near Hawaii on February 25, you are invited to the big launch party for Miamar Productions Inc. This promises to be one amazing celebration, with all the advanced Geisha graduates there to make sure you have the time of your life.

It's official now. Mia is the happy owner of her own US company. She is making a big splash in America, and already looking for other locations worldwide for future campuses.

You now have the option of training for your career on the Mediterranean or on the tropical Pacific beaches of Honolulu.

This is your unique opportunity to leave winter behind and bask in the sunshine and the loving friendship of our Hawaiian team. If you attend one of our trainings there, then your entire trip is a business expense.

Sometimes you just have to take delightful, unexpected action to clear your head. Come play with us, and you will get the clarity you need to see your next steps.

The Power of Service

The real secret of success for entrepreneurs is service. When you learn to make people glow with aliveness, then you are on your way to a prosperous career.

When people talk about service they might be discussing how to maintain a machine. Or they could be referring to a banking service. The service industry includes everything that isn't a solid, tangible product.

But when we use the word service we are talking about acts of loving-kindness that bring joy to other people. Whenever you light people up with pleasure and excitement, you have served them. Providing that kind of service will earn you a small fortune.

Greetings from Mia

We are excited to introduce two new players to the Miamar Productions team. First we would like to present Dr. Shang-Mei Hillhouse (pictured at the far right with her team) who will take up her position as President of Sage University—Austin. Mei has a Ph.D. in Finance and previously taught at St. Edwards University. Her skills and enthusiasm bring a lot to our team. Mei has already brought together the Austin team to produce a wonderful Skype event. She is working with Dana Minney, Maria Johnson, Flo Bowen and many others to produce the finest education possible for Texas entrepreneurs.

All for one—one for all

Welcome Dr. Margret Stix!

Our second addition to the team is Dr. Margret Stix from Vienna. Dr. Stix (you can call her Margret) earned a Ph.D. in Business Administration and has been a major player in a top corporate consulting firm. Now she has joined us as the Executive Vice President of Sales and Marketing. You can meet her in Honolulu, as she will be there for the Geisha School in February.

We are thrilled to welcome such a highly effective player to our executive team. More importantly, we are happy to have found a kindred spirit. Margret's enthusiasm brings a love of adventure that will catapult all of us into the spotlight. So please extend a warm welcome and heartfelt friendship to our new teammate.

We all know how challenging it can be to recruit top talent. Thanks to my rigorous training over the past 7 years, I finally have what it takes to manage this business. To find a marketer whose talent, skills and discipline match mine is a great joy. Our leadership core is complete. So let's get ready to rumble!

Video-Conferencing Seminars

Did you know that you can attend Sage University courses via Skype? You save 50% on your tuition when you pursue your studies online.

Here you see our Ibiza trainers on the wall in Austin, Texas, helping people understand the intricacies of starting and growing a small business. Now you can join local Sage University groups to interact live with our trainers via Skype. Just assemble 20-30 good people and we will log you in to our finest entrepreneur courses at half price.

Austin: You have to feel it!

Face and Body Reading

Looking ahead to spring training, we are offering two amazing courses in March. The first is Business Communication Training, which will make your presentations more professional and credible. That will be followed by our first Face and Body Reading course.

If you have wondered how our senior trainers can read people so deeply and accurately, now is your chance to find out. Over the four days you will learn to read people as easily as you would read a good book. These courses are filling up, so reserve your space early.

Missing Person

Has anyone seen the real Dana Minney lately? It seems that Dana has been possessed by a profoundly happy, confident spirit. Lately she has been lighting people up wherever she goes.

Now this new woman has Dana's beauty and charm. But you can tell her from the real Dana by the constant joy that she radiates and by the amazing results she is producing in her career. The "new" Dana has joined the PTA and altered the way that the school systems approach health for kids.

No one really misses the former Ms. Minney. But we want to make every appearance of doing our best to get her back before everyone gets used to this new upgraded model. If you should bump into the "old" Dana, be sure to call us. There is no need to hurry. No one would mind if you waited a year or two while we enjoy this shimmering angel that has landed among us.

Lighten Up in Spain

Before you can find your new life you have to stop your world. Spend April on Ibiza with us, and you will find the body you want and the lifestyle you have always dreamed about.

We will be getting slimmer through a combination of gourmet dining, dancing, and playing together in nature. We have the most effective approach and the most exciting team anywhere for people that want to slim down, tone up, and fit into that sexy wardrobe.

To lighten up your body, you have to light up your heart and mind. Join us for four weeks of personal attention and breakthrough interviews

Geisha School Intensive

(February 15-19)

Great entertainers achieve their status because they are deeply committed to their craft. They care a lot about having a good impact on their audience. If you are in the business of training or entertaining men, the advanced Geisha School prepares you—body and soul—for the challenge of earning the respect and admiration of powerful men. To specialize in serving men you must develop a radically higher degree of focus and discipline. Every flaw in your character and presentation will evoke a powerful reaction. You want to be certain that your vibe strikes men in the right way. To win them you must gentle them. Gentlemen naturally go into service to women.

Any woman can manipulate and seduce men. But only the finest coaches and trainers can inspire and enchant them. Only attend this course if you are ready for the honest, tough feedback you need to change. You might not like what you see. But you will leave the course with an entirely new orientation toward men.

How to Talk to Men—6-Day

Instructor's Course

(February 20-25)

To earn your instructor certification for the How to Talk to Men weekends you must complete 30 days of training, including this 6-day course. So we put the class in Hawaii this year, where you will gather with other curious women to rehearse the inner theater method that sets this seminar apart from anything in the field of professional training.

Our unique approach to role-play in relationships makes this course easy to train. And the inner theater method guarantees that you will produce astonishing breakthroughs every time you conduct the course. Every coach that has added this product to her repertoire has been surprised at how much her practice grew.

Other relationship courses offer good advice and information. Only How to Talk to Men provides rehearsal in the communication skills that transform relationships. Your training will change the lives of many women. So come to Honolulu this winter so that we can show you how.

Business Communication

(March 01-06)

When you speak the language of business, people listen. They hear the clarity and veracity of your words. Your recommendations are self-evident because you are speaking right to the heart of the action. Other effective leaders take your words as commands they can trust.

The most direct way to increase your effectiveness in business is to improve your communication skills. That requires a learning environment that provides rehearsal to hone your observation, distinctions, and feedback skills. All you need is 6 fun-filled days of rehearsal and role-play to synchronize your words and actions.

- Learn the hidden patterns of communication that structure the focus of all business conversations
- Discern the invisible patterns of communication
- Master strategic intervention—the skill of upgrading the level of conversation between leaders
- Develop “attactics” so that you can overcome intimidation.

Join the ranks of elite performers in business by coming to Ibiza in March for this high-paced event.
