

Global Freezing

Guess what, Chicken Little—the sky is not falling. And if May was any indication, global warming is just not happening in Ibiza. May was cooler than March. Only this week has the weather finally taken a turn toward summer.

We are loving it. The days are pleasant and the nights are pleasantly chilly. Our winter wardrobes are getting plenty of use and our electric bills are nil due to the fact that air conditioners are sitting idle across the island.

When you pack your suitcase for Ibiza (or Monaco) be sure to bring something warm for after sunset. You might have to bundle up or cuddle up to keep your temperature up.

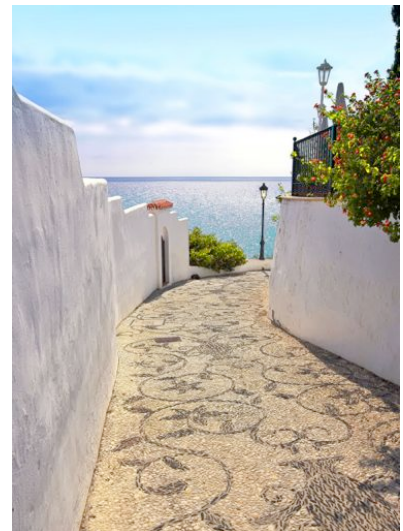

Take a look at the amazing courses we offer this summer and join us by the sea to learn the skills you need to grow your business.

Sage University Online

Every week we deliver one or more courses that are chock-full of excitement and information you can use to earn your living, coach your teams, and train your workshops. You can't travel here every week. But you can get the best moments of these valuable courses by watching Sage University Online each week in the privacy of your own home.

Each weekly session costs you 5€--less than a pack of cigarettes or a glass of wine. But what you learn will increase your earning power exponentially.

Coach TV is free. That is where you go to keep up with the adventures of your fellow practitioners. There you can find Coach TV Deutsch, and Coach TV Espanol, Coach TV French, etc. But for those who want to acquire more effective skills and greater understanding of Entrepreneurship, Sage University Online is your source for the information and energy you need to succeed.

You Own It, Baby

If you show initiative with Miamar Productions you suddenly find yourself owning and operating your own successful business spin-off. So it is that we are celebrating Xochi Wild as the new chief of GWEN. She is fast approaching 400 enrollments for GWEN 2013 here on Ibiza.

Sage University Online is now the domain of Justin (Case) Herfel. He has taken responsibility to see that you receive the best possible service when you take courses online.

So what can you do? As our network expands we are looking for a few trustworthy people—first to conduct projects and go on tour—then to take ownership of various programs that serve our global network of entrepreneurs and coaches.

WHAT'S NEW

This month we are recommending Proof of Heaven by Eben Alexander. You can't live your life fearlessly until you dispense the fear of death that haunts the subconscious of human culture. From physics we know that birth and death are fluctuations of energy. You are that eternal energy. Dr. Alexander is a neurosurgeon who experienced brain death. He offers compelling evidence of your true nature by sharing his inspiring story. This book will refresh your courage and put your life in perspective.

Our favorite movie this month is the story of Abraham Lincoln whose wisdom, compassion, and determination ended slavery in America.

Greetings from Mia Sage

As our global entrepreneur network expands I am truly amazed at how hard I have to play in order to keep up with the demands of such a large organization. It must be like that for professional level players in all sports, music, and business arenas. I watched a Katy Perry video in which she had to push through exhaustion to deliver an interview. Behind all the glitz and glamour of great performers you find incredible devotion and discipline. As for me, I am proud to be playing in the major leagues, and proud to have you as my teammates in the great game of entrepreneurship.

Behind every great event are hundreds of hours of training and rehearsal. No one can do your push-ups for you. Each and every player has to give everything she's got every single day to stay on the winning edge. In my wildest dreams I never thought that I would become one of the people who set the pace in my chosen field.

Great moments come when ordinary people achieve extraordinary things together. Our system is self-organizing. Instead of a leadership hierarchy, we share responsibilities by taking turns at the helm. I appreciate the opportunity to be part of the free agent entrepreneur revolution. And I appreciate you for playing with me.

Sexy Dancing

Pole dancing? Lap dancing? Hot, spicy bedroom dancing? What kind of university offers courses like these?

Well, by now you know that Sage University isn't your parent's college. Men and women of this generation want to work hard. But we want to play hard, as well.

Sedreana arrives on Ibiza for the summer, where she will teach Sexy Dancing to women—July 22nd, and again on August 11th. Learn the art of erotic temptation. Select the date that works best for you and confirm your enrollment right away for this exciting adventure.

GWEN 2013--Ibiza

This might be your most important career move ever. We are accepting reservations now for GWEN—Global Women's Entrepreneur Network on Ibiza November 1st – 5th. We are expecting hundreds of women from all over the world for this celebration of women in business. This is where you come to meet and to make friends with other great women who are earning their living by living their dream. Tuition for this exciting event is 400€. We invite you to expand your web of business connections as you share your business with other successful women from all points on the globe.

How to Talk to Men—in Business

(June 18 - 21)

As a woman you will be offered lower positions and less pay than men in most businesses. If you want to earn equal money and achieve your objectives you will have to learn the language of business that men use to achieve success.

The language of business is more than words. You have to master certain attitudes and embrace specific performance-based values that make men want to include you in the game of moving money.

How to Talk to Men in Business shows you how to get your way in the business arena without sacrificing your femininity. Men want to work for you. It is up to you to speak their language so that they can serve you. We will show you how to get their attention and win their cooperation.

Both corporate and entrepreneur ventures operate with specific fundamentals that are easy to learn and apply. Enroll today to open the door to a whole new future.

Sage Writers School

(July 9 - 14)

A coach or entrepreneur without a book is like a Formula One racing driver without a car. You might be the best in your profession. But you can't get on the track until you have the right equipment.

It takes a lot of focus to complete the book that will make you known in your profession. We show you how to write, and then guide you step-by-step through the process of publication and distribution.

Join us for six fun-filled days on Ibiza. Write in the café, write on the beach, and bring your stuff to class for the feedback you need to make your book sizzle.

Media and Film School

(July 16 – 21)

The most direct way to win raving fans is by putting your story on the Internet. Your life is a great adventure and your services provide exciting opportunities for other people to participate. But before they can join you and pay for your services you have to inspire them through the magic of media.

Are you funny? Is your work profound? Do the people you serve make powerful changes in their lives? Does anybody know all that about you?

Until you can give your gift through the medium of the Internet you will spend a lot of time working alone in obscurity. If you are ready to let your light shine, we want to invite you to a week on visual storytelling. Let us help you present your talent in a way that trains and entertains. You will either be invisible or you will be invincible, depending on your media skills. If you are ready to launch, let us know today so we can reserve your space in this creative festival of film and fun.

Internet Marketing

(July 23 - 28)

Every day you meet someone who wants to build your website or help you reach fans on the web. They do their job—you get your site—and then nothing happens. That is because you are the only one who can present your message clearly. This essential course shows you how to express yourself through verbal and video blogging so that other people will join into a conversation with you on the web.

As you enter the blogosphere you will meet kindred spirits—people who truly appreciate your insights and who want to participate in your events. We will show you exactly how to blog and how to create the buzz that makes other people regularly tune into your perspective. Check out Tumblr, the Huffington Post, and other blog sites to see how they have made blogging the most powerful new source of news, entertainment and education in the world today. Make your voice heard. Earn the income you deserve. Join us in the heat of summer to mix business with pleasure as you open a portal on the life you were meant to live.

How to Talk to Men—Instructor's Course

(August 1 - 10)

If you have been training the How to Talk to Men course, you know that this is the most fascinating course we offer. You hardly have to sell this magical weekend. Women flock to it.

We want to make sure that your delivery of this exciting event is crystal clear and dynamic. So we created the Instructor's course for you so that you can work through all the steps and master every procedure that makes this class the most exciting event in the training field today.

Magazines and talk show hosts love this event. Major news outlets have interviewed dozens of our trainers on this topic. It seems as if there is a never-ending supply of women who want to explore the connection between the sexes. If you are training the course, or would like to become a certified trainer, this ten-day training will guarantee that your presentation is excellent and that you can conduct the course with the charisma and charm that transforms curious women into your raving fans.

Mia Sage designed this course to be easy to deliver, and then she wrote a textbook that elevates the class to the finest relationship course in the training profession. She created the Instructor's Course for women who want to make certain that their delivery provides an exquisite experience for every woman who attends.

Ibiza is the place to be in August. The How to Talk to Men Instructor's Course is the most important event you will ever attend--both for your own relationships and for all the women you will serve with your superior people skills. Take your game to a whole new level by spending part of your summer with us. You can call Xochi Wild for more information or to enroll today.
