

Sheer Bliss

Autumn on Ibiza is perfect. The sun is warm and soothing on the skin, but not hot enough to burn. The breezes are cool and gentle. The beaches are perfect for bikinis, and the water is warm for swimming. This is the season when heaven comes down to earth.

The tourists have returned to their busy lives, leaving the island for those of us who live here, and for those who come to learn. Sage University is in full swing with enthusiastic clients from all over the world.

This is the time of year for nesting and for preparation for the coming year. We are available to assist you to refine your calling and master the skills you need. Let us assist you in finding the path to success. If you need a local coach, please contact us for a referral.

Sage University

The fact that you exist at this time and place is a miracle beyond any explanation. It is up to you, whether to suffer through this marvelous life, or to seize each moment as a joyous adventure.

Germany is now offering free education in excellent universities for foreigners and citizens alike. Angela Merkel is truly a brilliant leader. Her offer will attract thousands of smart, ambitious young people who want to prepare for traditional jobs.

Sage University offers advanced training for people who intend to live their lives as exciting adventures. Our approach to education reaches into the depths of your being to unleash hidden talents you can use to earn your living by doing what you love.

At Sage you pay a reasonable fee. But then you acquire skills that earn your money back many times over. Your return on investment makes your entrepreneur training far more valuable than any other career option.

Hawaii on my Mind

This photo is the boardwalk that leads to Kihei, Hawaii. You might want to drop over there after the GWEN conference in Honolulu, December 3-7.

The world offers a panorama of gorgeous locations, and we provide business training for you in the finest ones. Martin Sage created Sage University and the coaching tools as he strolled along this very beach. Mia joined him there in 2005 to continue his work. Their communication transformers remain the most effective business tools available for growing your own enterprise.

Be sure to bring a friend or two to Hawaii this year to master the innovation and entrepreneurial skills that will empower your business dreams.

Joyful Action

The best way to empty your mind is to fill your day with joyful activities. A tiny minority of people can achieve higher states of awareness by sitting still. A more effective approach to inner peace and happiness is through various forms of movement, such as Yoga, Tai Chi, or Zumba.

Most of us find it easier and more effective to transcend by scheduling delightful physical activities and engage our hands and minds in pleasing, productive tasks. Some of our favorites include hiking, gardening, swimming, gentle sports, dancing, and carpentry. You must find the activities that take you there. Then you can link them together to fill your days with joyous rapture.

What happens on Ibiza, stays on Ibiza

Acknowledgement

Jasmin Buehler is a free woman. She is on tour, meeting women entrepreneurs the world over to bring them the courage to grow their own businesses. Siobhan Murphy has introduced the Sage role-play system into Columbia Business School to help them train their business leaders more effectively. Mei Hillhouse is launching her creativity and curiosity book for corporate leaders. She is teaming up with Maureen Haskell and Lola Amekor to assist hospitals to create better teamwork and provide more effective conditions for their health care workers.

Everywhere we look we see so many of you out there, coaching, teaching, and training individuals and organizations—transforming the way they communicate. Thank you for your commitment to a better world.

Greetings from Mia Sage

It's touring time again for my road team. They will begin with GWEN—Global Women Entrepreneur Network in Honolulu, December 3-7, and then offer Geisha School on the following weekend for women who want to master the art of entertainment and conversation.

Over the past several years I have discovered that I have a knack for organizing effective business teams. Although I own and operate Miamar Productions and Sage University, I spend nearly all of my time assisting those of you who require instruction and inspiration to operate your own small businesses.

I am not aware of another business system in which the participants focus on empowering and assisting each other to such a degree. We are fortunate to have created a cooperative system based on generosity and loving-kindness. All of our clients, students, and professors are in service. We play for the love of the game and for the happiness we enjoy when we give our time and expertise to each other. When the goal of business is profound harmony, anything becomes possible.

GWEN Honolulu (December 3-7)

As women entrepreneurs, we grow our enterprises through close friendships. GWEN is a global women entrepreneur network for women who realize that building trust is essential to earning a living.

Lucy Lynch and Melissa Hendricks are hosting GWEN in their hometown—Honolulu. We invite you to join us on Waikiki for business and pleasure. Here you will bask in the warm Hawaii sun and in the love of other kind, generous women, all devoted to growing our businesses together.

Email info@sageuniversity.com to learn more about this unique, feminine approach to living your dream.

Geisha School (Honolulu, December 11-14)

You become the story you tell. Geisha school is a salon for women who want to gain prestige and honor by learning how to create conversations that lift them to a new place in their lives.

Chatter and gossip slip into our lives unnoticed. We speak ill of others without realizing the damage we do to ourselves. Few women ever master the discipline of filtering what they hear and how they represent themselves.

The authentic Geishas of Japan live lives equivalent to Western supermodels. They are wealthy celebrities. But their status doesn't depend on their age or on their looks. These lovely women speak with honor and humor. They win the trust of powerful men and women. They are revered because they are trustworthy.

You can learn to see and be seen that way. Join us in Hawaii to master the feminine art of wisdom.

Self-Actualization (Ibiza, January 02-08)

We all live two lives. One consists of the important roles we play—mother, father, brother, friend, and career professional. The other is that deep, serene presence that has traveled with our species from the dawn of time.

Your roles are essential. Your actual self is profoundly more so. Your inner wisdom is enjoined with your sexuality, mating, and survival. The better you know your true nature, the greater your power to live a fulfilling life.

Two people are looking through your eyes. One is you and the other is the silent witness that feels only joy and profound love. Self-Actualization is 7 days of exploration beyond your body, brain, and personality. Spend a few days with us on Ibiza to meet the real you.

Beauty, Health & Fitness

A Feminine Journey

(February 2015)

When a woman truly relaxes, she glows with beauty. Sometimes you have to get away to find that kind of release. You can feel your inner loveliness, longing to emerge. This delightful 28-day retreat carries you through your emotional and physical cycle so that your body can recover the confidence and vitality you enjoyed before you devoted your life to the people you love. Now it is your turn.

As a young girl you danced with wild abandon and spoke your mind with no concern what others might think. That freedom gave beauty and grace to your movements and filled your heart with joy. If you ever intend to recover your sweet, innocent nature, this is the time. Beauty, Health, and Fitness is the event. Ibiza is the place. And we are the dream team—the friends who see your loving nature.

You might want to think of this month as your own private bootie camp. The training is kind and loving—the very tough love you need to face down your inner demons. Together we will prepare delicious meals, create beautiful music, walk in nature, and dance the ancient way—the way of the woman. If you want a dancer's body, you must dance. If you want a gourmet lifestyle, you must learn the art of cuisine. If you want the confidence of a model, you will have to step out. Among friends like these your face will transform. Your senses will come alive. Your body will find the inner rhythm of your natural appetites. You will tune in the inner pulse that loving women share when they are free from the demands of a culture dominated male values.

Forget about feminism and passive aggressive tactics. Fighting only makes you hard and bitter. Authentic femininity is as soft as a baby and as radiant as true love. This 28-day experience creates a field of loving, nurturing kindness, the kind that a newborn baby shares with her mother in those first months of life, before expectations squelch our natural radiance.

You will learn PleasureSize—the art of touch and movement that your body needs to discover its own best fit and to find genuine physical freedom. Women are not made to “pump up” or to follow the leader. Here you listen only to the loving vibrations of your own heart. You will emerge from this retreat with an entirely new perspective and with communication skills that you can use to create the career that springs from your true nature. It is time to do something for you. Call or connect to meet
