How to Talk to Men in Business (Aug. 16.-19. - Online)

When men talk, they mean business. Every word, tone and phrase they utter presents a specific cost-to-benefit ratio. Even when they use the same words as women, their meanings are entirely different. The woman who can decode those male intentions gains access to cash flow normally reserved for successful men.

Feminine communication is generally lighter and sweeter. Women tend to nurture rather than conquer. Business is a money game that yields great incomes for those women who learn to bridge masculine and feminine conversations.

How to Talk to Men in Business is 4 days of delightful rehearsal in the language of money. Our unique inner and outer theater approach makes it fun to hack into the male business code. You will never again feel intimidated when your male associates lapse in man-talk. The men in your life will be astonished when they shift into the masculine perspective, only to find you there, alert, attentive, and effective.

Spend a little time and money to unlock the secrets of the business world. Your return-on-investment will exceed all of your expectations.

Learning is Cool

Fairness and Reciprocity

To understand how generosity improves your business and brings you happiness, you can view a hilarious video on YouTube that illustrates how our animal nature reacts to unfairness:

Most humans can rise above such petty jealousy to create win-win business games. Those who learn to suspend animalistic urges will always rise above the rest by celebrating when others earn rewards. While many folks still succumb to destructive competitive instincts, a few great players learn to get what they want by getting enough other people what they want.

You can create a new level of success this year by learning the mathematics of generosity at Sage.

People who are attending courses at Sage are making measurable progress in their businesses. Those who assist others also made great strides by learning to create and sustain team spirit. Our unique role-play system enables you to enjoy tough training in the context of great fun. Often the laughter in our courses is so loud we had to reinforce the bunker to keep from waking up the neighbors.

Most people live lives of quiet desperation. That is why we designed our business training systems to emanate the spirit of play along with the tough love necessary to open hearts and minds. It is a great joy to do what you love for a living.

When we see the pain and anger that often goes with politics, labor, and with professional careers like law and medicine, it becomes clearer that the future economy will gravitate more toward friendly service businesses. People are born to delight and dazzle one another. It is good to see machines take up the hard labor, leaving people free to use their time to earn money by making life lighter and sweeter for our fellow humans.

How to Talk to Men in Business (August 16-19 - Online)

Women in business must learn to understand what men won't tell women. Male business leaders speak a special code. When they talk about trust and teamwork, they use familiar words, but the meanings are very different.

Our unique inner theater and role-play approach puts you into the rhythm and tone that give you the key to create harmony with them.

Bring an open mind and a sense of humor. Together we will find the combination that opens the vault. Women who win men over get invited to the big game where they can earn much greater fees and salaries.

The Art of Business (September 1-2 - Online)

The finest service businesses provide warm friendly service for their clients. At the same time, they operate in a competitive environment. At Sage, you can attend low-cost training online to stay ahead of the game.

Many corporations practice business as war. They develop strategies and tactics designed to make others lose so they can dominate the field. The Art of Business is for free agent entrepreneurs who thrive on cooperation. Our path is designed to win loyal clients for life. We show you how to win without fighting.

To achieve success today you need to earn the trust of the right people. Friendliness is the way to go. Game theory brought down the Berlin Wall without violence. By learning to write the rules for innovative games, you can reduce the barriers for good people who would love to conduct projects with you.

Ibiza Adventure Training

Outdoor Teambuilding

(September 13–16)

Unknowingly, you are trudging through your life in a deep sleep. The days and nights run together in a state of somnambulism—waking slumber. Subtle boredom pulls you into the pettiness and meanness that we see reflected in the media. When a young soccer team gets lost in a cave, we all wake up temporarily. Crisis awakens our shared humanity. For a brief time, our hearts beat as one.

As for us, we demand that aliveness daily. It doesn't take tragedy to be the people we were meant to be. Adrenaline is the magic elixir that stimulates your higher brain and opens your heart to the special love shared by those who face danger together. Barbara Jansen and the Sage Team lead our legendary outdoor teambuilding experience to recreate your vitality by sharing the thrill of playing hard together in nature. Danger doesn't have to be dangerous. It does have to jolt us into a powerful awareness.

Together we will take on watersports, swim excursions, hiking, climbing, and other outdoor teambuilding games that will quicken your pulse and sharpen your perceptions. We will face down your fears together. You will return to your life with new courage and confidence.

Like a roller coaster at a theme park, each event is designed to ensure your safety while putting your body and mind in a state of exciting emergency. You can't get that from watching sports—you have to get out on the playing field. The adventure training uses new win-win versions of volleyball, search and rescue games, and imaginative activities that bring out dormant qualities that make life worth living. You will rediscover your primordial, instinctive vitality.

With courage comes the power to act. In our experience, this event equipped us to never back down from the challenges presented by powerful people and difficult conditions. Living numb is not an option. Enroll in this event to trust your life to others, as they put their lives in your hands. Please apply via e-mail so we can evaluate your mental and physical condition to tailor each adventure to your level of health and fitness.

Cultivating Your Online Presence

(September 21–23 – Online)

Your wonderful face is the magical image that makes you unforgettable online. How you look and sound online creates your public image. Your screen image determines how people feel about you and who will be attracted to working with you. In the old economy you were rewarded for keeping your head down and not causing a stir. Today that approach will leave you isolated and financially broke.

This inexpensive 3-day training brings you together with new friends who delight and surprise you to catch a glimpse of the beauty and radiance of your authentic being. Our unique “element of surprise” approach catches you with your “selfie” mask down. Together we will cultivate tones of love and innocent looks that make people feel good when they spend time with you onscreen. The screen is your shop window, and your location is global. Join us online to make your presence sizzle and watch your business grow.
